

Tiny Findings is accredited by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC), which means that our program has met NAEYC ten standards for high quality early childhood education. It involves maintaining strong partnership between staff and family, classroom observations and health and safety checks. TFalso provides a safe and healthy environment for children, employing teachers who possess early childhood degrees and are well-trained to develop intentional and meaningful lesson plans that are age appropriate and correlate with our curriculum.